The Research Forum

Judi Brownell
Cornell University School of Hotel Administration, jlb18@cornell.edu

Michael Morgan
Cornell University

Follow this and additional works at: http://scholarship.sha.cornell.edu/articles

Part of the Hospitality Administration and Management Commons

Recommended Citation

This Article or Chapter is brought to you for free and open access by the School of Hotel Administration Collection at The Scholarly Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Articles and Chapters by an authorized administrator of The Scholarly Commons. For more information, please contact hlmdigital@cornell.edu.
The Research Forum

Abstract
Welcome to the third section of the Research Forum.* The two articles that follow (pp. 72-96) further position this section of the Cornell Hotel and Restaurant Administration Quarterly as a place where innovative, rigorous scholarly work is encouraged. All papers explore some aspect of the various arts and sciences of hospitality.

Disciplines
Hospitality Administration and Management

Comments
Required Publisher Statement
© Sage. Reprinted with permission. All rights reserved.
Welcome to the third edition of the Research Forum.* The two articles that follow (pp. 72–96) further position this section of the Cornell Hotel and Restaurant Administration Quarterly as a place where innovative, rigorous scholarly work is encouraged. All papers explore some aspect of the various arts and sciences of hospitality.

Our primary emphasis is on innovations that are not yet in place, but which have the potential to become standard theory and practice in hospitality management.

If you have captured an idea, a method, or a perspective that is experimental yet promising, especially if it has empirical support, we encourage you to submit your paper to the Cornell Quarterly Research Forum. Our editorial policy and style guidelines are available on request.—Judi Brownell and Mike Morgan (Cornell Hotel School, Statler Hall, Ithaca, NY 14853; 607-254-5193 or 607-255-8993)

*The two previous Research Forum sections may be found in the June 1995 and December 1995 issues of the Cornell Quarterly.